THE CHALLENGE

The Granite City Real Estate Building in St. Cloud posed a complex installation project for Heartland, involving sliding doors, windows, and main entrances. Key challenges included coordinating logistics for these diverse components while maintaining high quality and safety standards. Additionally, the tight construction timeline and strict architectural specifications required careful navigation to meet client expectations and deliver a seamless solution.

Our custom products not only met the client's design requirements but also improved energy efficiency and accessibility, contributing to a more inviting and productive work environment.

RESULTS ACCOMPLISHED

The project delivered outstanding results. The sliding doors enhanced the aesthetic and functionality of the office entrances, while the exterior windows gave the building a striking, modern appearance that significantly improved its overall visibility and appeal.
